From the president...

Obstructive Sleep Apnea (OSA) is a common sleep disorder. If you have OSA, according to our July speaker, Karen Walls, it means that your airway collapses part or all of the way while you are sleeping. The airway can collapse repeatedly during the night. The air going to your lungs is decreased, and your brain wakes your body, so you can start breathing again. The decreased oxygen and frequent nighttime awakenings negatively affect your health.

The risks of untreated OSA include heart attacks, stroke, depression and a greater likelihood of diabetes. Our speaker discussed the benefits of OSA which included PAP therapy such as using a CPAP, APA or BPAP. This therapy gives people with Obstructive Sleep Apnea more energy and reduces daytime sleepiness.

Understanding Medication Adherence

The use of medications has led to dramatic advances in the treatment and prevention of many cardiovascular diseases. It’s thanks to many of these medications—combined with heart-healthy lifestyle changes—that many people are living longer and feeling better.

But medications only work if you take them as directed. If you skip doses, elect not to take a prescribed medicine or take too much, it can be dangerous.

In fact, medication non-adherence—not taking medication as prescribed—is a leading reason for hospitalizations, more frequent doctor visits and medical costs. It can also interrupt timely care.

Think about it this way: managing your medications is just as important to protect your heart health as getting enough exercise and eating a heart-healthy diet.

Often, patients with heart disease may need multiple medications. That’s because each is used to manage different symptoms or reduce the risk of additional health problems or death. You may also be taking medications for other health conditions, like diabetes or high cholesterol.

Getting the most from your medications

In many cases, treatment for heart disease includes a balance of healthy lifestyle changes (diet, exercise and sufficient sleep, medications and, for some patients, devices and/or other surgical procedures).

Get organized

- Use a weekly pill box; some also allow you to sort your pills daily by the time of day.
- Keep a personal medication chart/schedule and mark each medication as you take it.
- Talk with your doctor about home delivery pharmacies that pre-pour medications and put them in blister packaging for you.

Work your medications into your daily routine

- One of the best ways to remember to take your medications is to take them at set times during your normal routine: for example, after breakfast or before brushing your teeth at night.

Set reminders

- Place reminder notes where you can see them.
- Add it to your calendar or set a backup alarm on your smartphone or clock.
- Keep a written record of all your medications in a safe place.

Use follow-up appointments as a chance to review your medications

- Medication regimens often need to be or can be adjusted, so be ready to talk about how you are feeling and any issues with your medication.
- Ask about ways to lower costs if it’s a concern.

Plan ahead for travel

- Let your doctor know if you need an extra supply of medications
- Remember, it’s OK to take medication because heart disease is serious.
Mended Hearts Local Dues

We welcome all those who have heart disease, or know someone who does or is at risk to attend our meetings.

Membership is not required to attend monthly support group meetings. You are always invited to join us on the 3rd Thursday of each month at 6:30 in the Dowdle Center located on the corner of Gallatin and Governors Drive.

Mended Hearts Support

- Compassion
- Hope
- Encouragement

Mended Hearts is a patient-support organization that has offered compassion, hope and encouragement to heart patients, their families and caregivers for over 60 years.

Whether in the hospital, on the phone or internet, Mended Hearts volunteers are here to help you enjoy life—even after a heart event. We understand your needs and concerns because we’ve experienced them ourselves. It’s important to know you’re not alone. We’re here to listen. We’re here to help.

OUR MISSION is dedicated to inspiring hope and improving the quality of life for heart patients and their families through ongoing peer-to-peer support.

OUR PURPOSE is to offer help, support and encouragement to heart patients and their families.

“Mended Hearts volunteers have been quietly reaching out, listening and sharing their experiences with strangers.”

Upon the recommendation of the Chapter 260 Executive Board, chapter members present at the July 18, 2019 approved a local dues increase for our local chapter. The dues increases from $8.00 to $10.00 and is effective immediately.

If you are interested in training to be an Accredited Visitor, please contact us. Visitor training may be completed in an online training or in a face-to-face training. All Accredited Visitors must complete an application with the volunteer office and complete 3 on-site visits with an experienced visitor.

Chuckles for the day:

⇒ Two very elderly ladies were enjoying the sunshine on a park bench in Miami. They had been meeting at that park every sunny day for over 12 years, chatting and enjoying each other's friendship. One day the younger of the two turned to the other and said, "Please don't be angry with me, dear, but I am embarrassed after all these years. What is your name? I am trying to remember, but I just can't." The older friend stared at her, looking very distressed, said nothing for two full minutes, and finally said, "How soon do you have to know?"

⇒ A senior man, not in the best physical condition, asked the trainer in the gym, "I want to impress that beautiful girl in the weight room. Which machine should I use?"

The trainer replied, "Use the ATM machine outside the gym!"
