Columbus Day, which commemorates Christopher Columbus’ arrival in the “New World” on Oct. 12, 1492, is one of 10 federal holidays, observed on the second Monday of October (Oct. 14 this year). The first observance of Columbus Day is said to have occurred in 1792; it became a legal holiday 100 years later, in 1892.
Mended Hearts volunteers make a difference every day!
Each year Mended Hearts volunteers make a difference in many lives. Patients newly diagnosed with heart disease can have many questions that can be best answered by someone who has “been there”. Consider taking a few hours a month to make a difference. If you would like to be a Mended Hearts volunteer, contact any Chapter 350 member listed below.

Our Mission Statement:
To inspire hope and improve the quality of life for heart patients and their families through ongoing peer-to-peer support, education, and advocacy.

The Mended Hearts Prayer

The Mended Hearts, Inc.
We ask for your blessings, Lord.
We ask for strength.
That we may pass it on to others.
We ask for faith,
That we may give hope to others.
We ask for health,
That we may encourage others.
We ask, Lord, for wisdom,
That we may use all your gifts well.

THE POWER of GIVING BACK!
Caregiver Story
By Barb Ryberg

In this life we encounter great experiences and hard times. We all have faith and hope. My husband and I also have love.

Dave is 70 years old and we have been married for 48 years. We have lived in our home in Noblesville for nearly 41 years and are very happy in this community. He has been disabled for many years. His heart issues include congestive heart failure, pacemaker, and stents put in last year.

His medical issues have become worse over time. I was planning to retire 3 years ago with a date in mind. He became very ill and needed numerous tests and scans, with cancer suspected. It turns out he has a rare immune disorder and we were lucky it was diagnosed correctly. I left my job of 24 years and coworkers 7 months ahead of plan because I was missing work to take care of him. I needed to be fair to them, and be able to be around my husband more. It was a difficult adjustment at first - it took me out of my normal routine and comfort zone. I found I had more than enough to do to fill my days and still have some time to be me.

He also has diabetes, thyroid issues, COPD, and has serious vision problems. His vision gets worse and he becomes weaker. He almost died twice - the first time before he got his first pacemaker and last year before he was taken to the hospital to need stents for his heart. That night he blacked out completely.

We are in this together but some of the times are better than others. He gets depressed and scared at times and that is to be expected. He has pain a lot of the time and trouble breathing. He mourns the things he can no longer do. At such times he can get very short with me. I try my best to not take it personally but that can be hard. We work through it - sometimes I have reminded him that this is we - not just he - that are affected by all of this.

We are fortunate to live in Noblesville, to be close to Riverview, and for all of the great doctors we have. He gets excellent care and everyone is very kind. One of the biggest things that helps him has been coming to Mended Hearts. He did not want to come at first but Marv did not give up on him. Now he never wants to miss a meeting and neither do I.

We are happy overall. He will never get better in a lot of ways so we hope that he does not get worse too quickly. I am his wife, doing the best I can to take care of him.

We are certainly looking forward to our 50th wedding anniversary in 2021. Love got us this far and we hope for a lot longer.

HAPPY HALLOWEEN!
Flu Vaccination

Why should people get vaccinated against the flu?

Influenza is a potentially serious disease that can lead to hospitalization and sometimes even death. Every flu season is different, and influenza infection can affect people differently, but millions of people get the flu every year, hundreds of thousands of people are hospitalized and thousands or tens of thousands of people die from flu-related causes every year. An annual seasonal flu vaccine is the best way to help protect against flu. Vaccination has been shown to have many benefits including reducing the risk of flu illnesses, hospitalizations and even the risk of flu-related death in children.

How do flu vaccines work?

Flu vaccines cause antibodies to develop in the body about two weeks after vaccination. These antibodies provide protection against infection with the viruses that are in the vaccine.

The seasonal flu vaccine protects against the influenza viruses that research indicates will be most common during the upcoming season. Traditional flu vaccines (called “trivalent” vaccines) are made to protect against three flu viruses; an influenza A (H1N1) virus, an influenza A (H3N2) virus, and an influenza B virus. There are also flu vaccines made to protect against four flu viruses (called “quadrivalent” vaccines). These vaccines protect against the same viruses as the trivalent vaccine and an additional B virus.

Who should get vaccinated this season?

Everyone 6 months of age and older should get an influenza (flu) vaccine every season with rare exception. CDC’s Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices has made this recommendation since the 2010-11 influenza season.

Vaccination to prevent flu is particularly important for people who are at high risk of developing serious flu complications. See People at High Risk of Developing Flu-Related Complications for a full list of age and health factors that confer increased risk.

Who Should Not Be Vaccinated?

Different influenza (flu) vaccines are approved for use in different age groups. In addition, some vaccines are not recommended for certain groups of people. Factors that can determine a person’s suitability for vaccination, or vaccination with a particular vaccine, include a person’s age, health (current and past) and any allergies to flu vaccine or its components.

When should I get vaccinated?

You should get a flu vaccine before flu viruses begin spreading in your community, since it takes about two weeks after vaccination for antibodies to develop in the body and provide protection against flu. Make plans to get vaccinated early in fall, before flu season begins. CDC recommends that people get a flu vaccine by the end of October, if possible. Getting vaccinated later, however, can still be beneficial and vaccination should continue to be offered throughout the flu season, even into January or later.

Getting vaccinated early (for example, in July or August) is likely to be associated with reduced protection against flu infection later in the flu season, particularly among older adults.

Children who need two doses of vaccine to be protected should start the vaccination process sooner, because the two doses must be given at least four weeks apart.
